AHG's new alliance with Museum of the Bible provides exclusive access and membership for girls and their families

'Our new alliance with Museum of the Bible allows AHG to come alongside girls and their families and explore God's Word in an interactive, engaging way,' says AHG Founder Patti Garibay

CINCINNATI, Ohio — American Heritage Girls (AHG, www.americanheritagegirls.org), one of the world's largest Christian, scout-type organizations, has been a beacon of traditional, biblical values for nearly 30 years. AHG is dedicated to building women of integrity through service to God, family, community and country, and has over 60,000 members in all 50 states and in several countries around the world.

In order to provide AHG girls with the best opportunities for spiritual growth and development, AHG is proud to announce a unique alliance with Museum of the Bible (MOTB). Museum of the Bible, located in Washington, D.C., is among the most technologically advanced and engaging museums in the world. Showcasing rare and fascinating artifacts spanning 4,000 years of history, the museum offers visitors an immersive and personalized experience with the Bible and its ongoing impact on the world. AHG's new alliance with MOTB offers AHG girls and their families an exclusive membership to the museum, unique online learning materials including Bible curriculum, and more.

"AHG was founded by concerned parents to provide scouting with a biblical worldview, centered on Christ for their daughters," said AHG Founder and Executive Director Patti Garibay. "Our new alliance with Museum of the Bible allows AHG to come alongside girls and their families and explore God's Word in an interactive, engaging way. Whether Museum of the Bible is in your backyard or hundreds of miles away, this membership is sure to encourage girls to explore the transformative power of the Bible in new and exciting ways that pair perfectly with the AHG Program."

The Museum of the Bible offers an immersive and interactive experience that allows people of all ages to engage with the Bible in new and unique ways. Through interactive exhibits and cutting-edge technology, the museum brings guests a powerful experience with the impact, narrative, and history of the Bible.

"It is vital that we raise godly girls who are equipped to fight for the Gospel in these trying and desolate times," said Garibay. "Women with a biblical worldview are a valuable commodity in short supply, but we are doing everything in our power to advance the kingdom of God by empowering young women of faith. AHG is determined to provide quality, age-appropriate content, and activities for girls so that they can learn more about their Heavenly Father as well as their unique worth as a daughter of the King. Our alliance with MOTB opens a whole new avenue for AHG as we seek even more God-honoring alliances with like-minded organizations.”

Tune in to this week’s Raising Godly Girls \(RGG\) podcast and “Raising Godly Girls” one-minute radio feature to learn more about the essence of a biblical worldview and its transformative impact on parenting.

American Heritage Girls was founded in 1995 by a group of parents who wanted this faith-based, scout-type character development program for their daughters. At AHG, girls ages five to 18 meet together as a single Troop at the same time and then break out into Units by Levels. This gives AHG girls the important social experience of interacting with friends and godly mentors of various ages; members also learn leadership skills within a group setting. AHG Troops are located in local communities across the nation. If none exists in a given area, families can bring the AHG Program to their own area. An American Heritage Girls Troop Development Coach is available to provide resources to potential Charter Organizations and other families to form a new Troop. To hear more about the purpose, mission, and vision of AHG from Founder and Executive Director Patti Garibay, click here.

Today, there are Troops in all 50 states and girls being served in 15 countries around the globe. Girls can join a Troop at any time; if a Troop is not available nearby, they can become a Trailblazer and enjoy the AHG program alongside their parent. A variety of Christian denominations are also represented as Charter Organizations for Troops. Thousands of volunteer members across the country are helping girls grow in their faith, cultivate a heart for service, enjoy the great outdoors, and have more fun than they can imagine.

AHG offers various resources under “Raising Godly Girls,” including a weekly podcast, one-minute radio features, a blog, and guides for parents. All “Raising Godly Girls” platforms and materials offer guidance and biblically-based advice on various topics affecting girls today, such as bullying, identity, anxiety, and body image issues. “Raising Godly Girls” provides parents, educators, and faith community leaders with tools, resources, and Scripture-based advice to help raise girls after God’s own heart.

AHG's new podcast, “Raising Godly Girls,” features fresh episodes every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday and can be accessed through all major podcast platforms and is available at raisinggodlygirls.com. Additionally, the “Raising Godly Girls Minute” with Patti Garibay airs on 1000+ Christian radio stations across the country.
